Lift Corns Off With Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Corns and calluses loosen and fall off! Magic!

Few drops of Freezone take all pain and soreness from corns instantly

No humbug! Any corn, will loosen and can be lifted whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen fight up and lift out, with-the corns or calluses but out a particle of pain or shrivels or rather loosens them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting before the maches of the put in place, is a charming conception of Greenwich Village and the beginning of Fifth Avenue. The green stage in the foreground, that is pletured as just starting on its uptown trip, is delightfully composed.

Five artists contribute to the May exhibition at the Catherine Lorillard Wolfe Art Club, Grace House, No. 802

Of the group the best work has been done by Florence Mix, who has used both pastel and water color mediums. Her sketch (No. 29 in the catalogue). Her sketch (No. 29 in the catalogue), dealing with a seated nude, is vigorously expressed. Her "Pastel Study" (No. 30), showing a woman at her toilet, who is adjusting her exfords, is brisk and is indicative of a good command of this medium. The high and low lights are skilfully handled with more than ordinary expression. The pose has been well registered. "The Village," by the same contributor, is less certain in its translation of the chosen theme and the colors tend toward the bizarre.
"The Funeral," done on crepe paper, te again not so successful and it lacks.

Alice Muth's "Still Life" is the best

Alice Muth's "Still Life" is the best of her four offerings. The interjected Japanese Doll, with its baby stars, in combination with the peacock feather fan and the Japanese paper lantern, is painted with foy and gladness, that sticks out all over it, as do the spines of a sea urchin. The work done is in full sympathy with the motif.

"Tuilps," by the same artist, is quite inferior, both as to theme and finish. The perpendicular yellow stripes, in color gradation, at the left, are well expressed, much better, in point of fact, than is the textile drapery shown fact, than is the textile drapery shown at the right of the painting. The tulips themselves have, slast
